Guide
Winter 2023 Program Start
Glendon Campus, York University
As we are not all gathered in the same space, we recognize that this land acknowledgment might not be for the territory that you are currently on. We ask that if this is the case, you take the responsibility to acknowledge the traditional territory you are on and the current treaty holders. We recognize that many Indigenous Nations have longstanding relationships with the territories upon which York University campuses are located that precede the establishment of York University. Glendon as part of York University acknowledges its presence on the traditional territory of many Indigenous Nations. The area known as Tkaronto has been care taken by the Anishinabek Nation, the Haudenosaunee Confederacy, and the Huron-Wendat. It is now home to many First Nation, Inuit and Métis communities. We acknowledge the current treaty holders, the Mississaugas of the Credit First Nation. This territory is subject of the Dish with One Spoon Wampum Belt Covenant, an agreement to peaceably share and care for the Great Lakes region.

Course load – Full-Time vs. Part-Time

Maximum Course Load
To graduate in the conventional timeline, the expected course load for the Fall and Winter is 30 credits or 15 credits per semester. Note that not everyone is able to take the maximum course load. For example, if you work full-time, have a registered disability, or have heavy non-academic commitments, consider taking fewer credits.

Full-Time Status
To be considered a full-time student, you must be enrolled in a minimum of 9 credits per semester.

Part-Time Status
If you take fewer than 9 credits per semester, you are considered a part-time student.

Course load for students with disability
Students officially registered with a disability through Glendon’s Accessibility, Well-Being and Counselling Centre can be considered full-time if enrolled in 6 credits per semester.
Degree Requirements

There are 5 common requirements to all Glendon degrees:

1. Major
2. General Education
3. Language Requirement
4. Upper-Level Requirements
5. Credits outside the Major (Science outside the major for BSc)

If you pursue the following options, Additional Requirements will apply:
• International Bachelor of Arts (iBA) or Bachelor of Science (iBSc)
• Add a second major (Double Major)
• Add a minor (Major/Minor)
• Add a certificate program

For full details about your requirements, always consult the Academic Calendar from the year you begin your program
Selecting the right courses for first year

In your first year of study, you will focus your course selection on these three areas:

1) Major Requirement - Introductory courses in your chosen discipline

2) General Education Requirement
   - For BAs: Courses in Humanities (HUMA), Natural Science (NATS), Social Science (SOSC) and Modes of Reasoning (MODR)
   - BSc: also includes Computer Science (LE/EECS), Mathematics (MATH) and Foundational Science courses (ex. PHYS, BIOL)

3) Language Requirement - Courses in your second language
   FRAN or FSL courses for French language learners, ENSL for English language learners

Elective courses should be added only if your schedule allows for it once these 3 categories are fulfilled.

Repeat the “Add a Course” steps for each course you wish to add.

When you are finished, all your courses should appear on your “Session Summary” page.

Note: A $300 Registration Deposit is required after you enrol in your first course.
Plot your Timetable (get a visual printout of your schedule)

From the York Courses Web Site, click on “Plot My Timetable”

The schedule will note if the class is a lecture, tutorial, lab or other type.

The schedule will also indicate the building and room; click on the hyperlinked building for a link to a campus map.
Course Conflicts

• If you have courses that overlap, the block of time will appear in red; details of the courses in conflict will be outlined at the bottom of the page.

• If you have any conflicts, you should modify your schedule accordingly.
Common Enrolment Issues

- Seats reserved / restricted
- Course full
- Cannot add French courses
- French course conflicts with a mandatory course
- French course is full in the Winter-term
- Upper Year courses
- Cannot avoid timetable conflicts
Remaining Seats Reserved/Restricted

What it means:
"seats/spaces are reserved/restricted" means that the limited seats available are reserved for students for whom this course is a requirement. These restrictions are sometimes lifted later in the enrolment cycle, but this is course-dependant.

What to do:
If you require a course that is reserved/restricted, the spot is reserved for you. Go ahead and enrol! If this does not work, try the options offered on the next slide!
Course Full

What it means: If you attempt to enrol in a course and it is full, this means that all the assigned spaces for this class have been taken.

What to do:
- If the course has multiple sections, try enrolling into another section.
- Select a different course according to your requirements.
- Try again another day! Students often add and drop courses, so a spot might open up.
- If the full course is one of your required major courses, reach out to your department. You can find contact information for a department on the York Course Contact Directory.
Cannot Add French Courses

Departmental permission is usually required to add FSL and FRAN courses. This allows the department to verify that you are adding the correct courses based on your level of placement.

What to do:
• Contact the academic department that offers the course
  For French Studies (FRAN) courses – francais@glendon.yorku.ca
  For French Second Language (FSL) courses – fsl@glendon.yorku.ca

Include your:
• name
• student number
• the course code (ex. FSL 1210), and section (ex. Section B).

Once the department has given you permission to add your courses, log back into the Registration and Enrolment Module (REM) to enrol in the courses.
French Course Conflicts with a Mandatory Course

What to do:

• Prioritize the mandatory courses in your Major.
• This means you may only be able to start 3 credits of French this year instead of 6.
• You can replace these credits with 3 additional general education credits or elective credits.
• You can also take your next FSL course in the Summer term or in the Fall.

If French Studies is one of your Majors, prioritize your FRAN courses and drop or change other courses.
The Winter Sections of my French Course are Full

What to do:

• Start your French course in the Winter term.
• Do not select a course at a level that is different from your placement level.

• Since you will only be completing 3 credits of French instead of 6, take 3 credits of General Education or electives in the Fall to complete your timetable.
• Take your next FSL course in the Summer term or the following Academic Year.

Have you read the course descriptions to see if any sections are listed as “Backup” (Under Notes/Additonal Fees section)? If there is a Backup section that works with your timetable, contact the department for more information.
Upper-Year Courses (at the 3000 and 4000-level)

Any courses that start with a 3 or a 4 are considered upper-year courses.

What to do:
• First-year students should avoid upper-year courses; they are quite challenging!
• You should be enrolling in courses that start with a 1 or 2 ex: 1001, 2030
• The system may not stop you from enrolling in upper-year courses; it is up to you to make sure you aren't doing so accidentally.

NOTE: If you were granted transfer credits, you may be advised by an academic advisor to add upper-year courses.
I Cannot Seem to Avoid Timetable Conflicts

What to do:

• Try using the Visual Schedule Builder to play around with course schedule scenarios. [Watch video tutorial here]

  Note: The VSB does not register you in courses. You must still enrol in courses using the [Registration and Enrolment Module (REM)].

• Be open and flexible to other course options that were not your first pick.

• If you need to drop a course you are interested in, take note of it and try to fit it into your schedule in the future, either next term, or in the next academic year.

• Don’t give up. Learning to enrol in courses is a new skill and it takes time and practice to get it right.
