GLENDON
Glendon, as part of York University, acknowledges its presence on the traditional territory of many Indigenous Nations. The area known as Tkaronto has been caretaken by the Anishinabek Nation, the Haudenosaunee Confederacy, the Huron-Wendat and the Métis. It is now home to many Indigenous Peoples. We acknowledge the current treaty holders, the Mississaugas of the Credit First Nation. This territory is subject of the Dish With One Spoon Wampum Belt Covenant, an agreement to peaceably share and care for the Great Lakes region.

FOCUS ON LANGUAGES

LANGUAGE LEARNING: A WELCOMING, SAFE AND SUPPORTED JOURNEY

Glendon Campus is known for offering authentic learning situations in bilingual and multi-lingual environments, as well as programs and profs that are highly supportive.

Let's be clear: knowledge of a second language is not a prerequisite. Our programs welcome students of various abilities and proficiency levels and are primarily focused on French and English, with Spanish-language opportunities. Interested in adding a different language to your learning experience? Together, York's Keele and Glendon campuses offer courses in more than 20 languages.

At Glendon, you’ll take one or more courses per year in a second language. It could be a language-learning course like French as a Second Language (FSL) or English as a Second Language (ENSL), or a course from an academic program that is offered in your second language.
At Glendon, language learning means being in a unique mindset and having the opportunity to sharpen your skills across pathways designed for your abilities.

All our students improve their language skills, build on the second language skills they may have previously acquired and graduate with a language certification they can leverage to gain employment.

So. What does it all mean?

Every student that applies to Glendon goes through a Language Assessment. No need to study for it. The assessment is based on your skill set and will help with placing you in courses that are appropriate based on your capabilities. We want to help you build the right program for you.

As long as you have a passion for learning or perfecting a new language, you’ll fit right in.

NOTE: If the assessment tells us that you have a little bit of catching up to do, you’ll take a certain number of credits in the 1000 Level (beginner) courses, in either French or English, before you can access the 2000 Level (intermediate) courses. The 2000 Level courses are key to unlocking the minimum bilingual certification level required to graduate at Glendon.

THE RIGHT PATH FOR YOU

Based on your language assessment, your academic advisor will assign you to one of three pathways:

FSL (French as a Second Language) Pathway
This option is designed for non-French speakers who want to learn more or improve their French while studying in their discipline of choice.

FRAN Pathway
This is the heavy-duty program, for students who might want to complete their major specifically in either French Studies, BEd (in French) or Translation. This pathway is designed for language ninjas.

ENSL (English as a Second Language) Pathway
This option is designed for non-native English speakers who want to continue to improve their English while studying in their discipline of choice.

For each pathway - FSL, FRAN and ENSL - there are three levels of bilingual certification that can be achieved at Glendon.

BASE LEVEL Bilingual BA or BSc
This is the level students reach by obtaining 6 credits in their second language throughout the course of their undergrad. You can reach this level either by taking ENSL/FSL 2000+ courses OR by taking courses from your major in your second language.

MID LEVEL BA or BSc with Bilingual Certificate
This is the intermediate level that requires you to satisfy the Bilingual BA requirements and add 12 credits to it, either by taking ENSL/FSL 2000+ courses OR by taking courses from your major in your second language.

ADVANCED LEVEL BA or BSc with Bilingual Excellence Certificate
Go the extra mile: take an additional 12 credits (over and above the Bilingual Certificate requirements) in your second language, either by taking ENSL/FSL 2000+ courses OR by taking course from your major in your second language; maintain a B or above in all courses; AND complete a French and English exam successfully at the end of your degree.

IN A CLASS OF ITS OWN BA or BSc with Trilingual Excellence Certificate (English, French and Spanish)
This goes beyond all other levels. Students who graduate with the Trilingual Excellence Certificate are often headed for a career in international relations or within global organizations.
BENEFITS OF LEARNING A NEW LANGUAGE

Get hired
In Canada, advertised pay is on average 18 to 20 percent higher for bilingual job opportunities. Bilingual candidates are more likely to get a well-paying job and advance more quickly in their career than their monolingual peers.

Meet the needs of employers
People who speak more than one language have improved memory, problem-solving and critical-thinking skills, enhanced concentration, ability to multitask, and better listening skills. They switch between competing tasks and monitor changes in their environment more easily than monolinguals, as well as display signs of greater creativity and flexibility.

Better decision-making
Studies show that decisions made in our second language are more reason-driven than those made in our first language. When we deliberate in a second or third language, we distance ourselves from the emotional responses and biases associated with our mother tongue. As a result, bilinguals are adept at making more systematic and level-headed decisions.

Be future-ready
According to the World Economic Forum Top Skills 2030 report, demand for higher cognitive skills such as creativity, critical thinking, decision making and complex information processing will grow through 2030 at cumulative double-digit rates.

STUDENT STORIES

DIAGO M.
Toronto, Ontario
4th year in Political Science
Arrived at Glendon with very little French, was placed in the FSL Pathway

“My language journey has been incredibly revealing. Even though I had almost no French when I arrived at Glendon, I have been able to move from the 1000- to the 2000-Level language courses, which means a lot to me. This happened because I worked hard and eventually, I was able to understand and apply what I was learning in my classes. However, beyond the technical side of language-learning, what’s been amazing is discovering new cultures and new opportunities I was completely unaware of previously.

I encourage everyone who has an interest or a passion for languages to go for it! The journey is worth it and will bring a lot to your life.”

MARCOS C.S.
North York, Ontario
2nd year in Études françaises/French Studies
Arrived at Glendon with Extended French Program at the Secondary School level, was placed in the FRAN pathway “Since starting at Glendon, I have enjoyed the many benefits of a bilingual campus. I decided to get involved with Recruitment Services, where I contributed to #StartYourQuest 2019, the bilingual YouTube series designed to help first-year students transition to Glendon. It was a unique opportunity to practice my French proficiency, which also helped me realize how much more I could achieve with the knowledge of a second language.

If this seems a bit daunting, keep in mind that pros, academic advisors and fellow students at Glendon want you to succeed and develop your confidence when learning a language. They can give you the support you need to work through challenges. Don’t be afraid to ask for help: the single time you decide to connect with others may just put you on a great path to continue your language journey with confidence.”

RESOURCES ON CAMPUS

Bienvenue au Salon francophone.
Every day, language students and mentors meet at the Salon francophone to discuss the latest hot topics, learn about each other’s culture and improve their French, all in a conversational and supportive environment.

The Salon francophone is Glendon’s most popular place to go for French help. With its relaxed environment, the Salon is a great place to meet up with friends and is staffed with Glendon students who are there to help you with your conversational French or that sneaky conjugaison.

The Language Training Centre for Studies in French offers academic support, learning strategies and hands-on learning opportunities. From beginner to intermediate and advanced FSL courses, as well as internships and conferences in French, they’ve got you covered.

Glendon’s ESL Open Learning Centre offers one-on-one or small group sessions for English as a Second Language (ENSL) students registered in courses at Glendon. Work on your listening, reading, writing and speaking skills with a friendly Language Facilitator.

DID YOU KNOW?
Glendon has its very own Spanish Resource Centre. It is the only space of its kind in Ontario and is entirely dedicated to the promotion and study of the Spanish language and culture.

BETTER UNDERSTAND AND TRAVEL THE WORLD... OR WORK ABROAD

Looking to explore global opportunities, get hands-on workplace experiences, teach others, discover life around and within us, or understand new cultures? Glendon is one of Canada’s top campuses offering international exchanges, with more than 10% of Glendonites studying abroad for up to a full academic year.

We offer unique International BAs and BScs that prepare you for the global workforce of 2030.

Glendon students graduate with a degree from York University, and have access to all Keele Campus courses, amenities, scholarships, services and faculty during their studies.

95% of Glendon students surveyed agreed with the statement: “I am confident I will graduate with the knowledge and skills I need to be successful in the job market.”
EXCLUSIVE iBA AND iBSc DEGREES

When we say we speak the world, we mean it. In 2007, Glendon was the FIRST Canadian university campus to offer bilingual or trilingual International Bachelor degrees across all its programs and is the ONLY university campus in Canada to continue to do so today.

What does that mean? If you are a language ninja who is already proficient in English and French and want to add the international component to this skillset, the iBA and iBSc are for you.

If you are interested but unsure whether this is the right choice, we recommend you apply to any regular BA or BSc program in first year and decide the following year to obtain an iBA/iBSc degree by adding these components:

1. An international exchange
2. Internationally oriented courses
3. Advanced language training in two or three languages (English, French, and one of ~20 others offered across both Keele and Glendon campuses).

Not ready to commit to a full iBA or iBSc? You can still go on exchange with a regular BA or BSc.

NEW! Inquiry-based projects incubator – also known as G21

So, you want to change the world? G21 is a series of activities designed to foster students who want to experiment and be prepared to solve some of the complex problems of tomorrow. In a supportive environment where mentoring, technology and multi-disciplinary approaches are brought together, you are invited to explore a passion point across an intellectual, emotional or creative thematic with professors, peers, staff members and external third party experts from government, non-governmental organizations or businesses. Your ideas will be fueled by passion, aesthetics and ethics, and you’ll be challenged to think differently and bring new ideas to the table.

NEW! Glendon/Schulich 4+1 Master of Management Program

Glendon Campus offers a pathway with York University’s Schulich School of Business: The Pathway to Master of Management (MMgt) program. High-achieving students can acquire 4 years of specialized knowledge in their undergraduate program of interest, then apply to a 1-year MMgt degree.

Top Scholars Program

Glendon’s Top Scholars Program celebrates incoming high school students of the highest calibre who reaffirm our long history of academic excellence. Select Top Scholars can participate in the Research Apprenticeship Program and have the opportunity to conduct hands-on research with a professor in first year.

EXCHANGE AND INTERNATIONAL OPPORTUNITIES

Let’s go! Roam the world while studying

Glendon opens doors towards many world-renowned institutions through our extensive exchange or internship programs. What do France, Belgium, Cuba, Vietnam, Spain and Switzerland have in common? They’re among several exchange destinations for Glendon students. Spend your third year abroad in one of these countries, or with one of our 100+ university partners across the globe. Get your passport ready and come away with us.

Access the world... from your own backyard

Get experience under your belt through internationally oriented organizations on campus: the Spanish Resource Centre (a partnership with the Government of Spain), the Salon francophone, the International Studies Student Association, and the Model United Nations are just a few great places to start.

Welcome the world

Boost your resume and your brainpower by coordinating the International Studies Symposium, an award-winning student-run conference. In addition to putting on the conference, you’ll earn course credit for completing an independent study of the featured country, network with economists, diplomats, and politicians, participate in a field trip to your country of study, and potentially publish your findings in a book.

NEW! Glendon/Schulich 4+1 Master of Management Program

Glendon Campus offers a pathway with York University’s Schulich School of Business: The Pathway to Master of Management (MMgt) program. High-achieving students can acquire 4 years of specialized knowledge in their undergraduate program of interest, then apply to a 1-year MMgt degree.

SKILLS FOR THE FUTURE

According to Canadian and global white papers on the future of employment, some of the key capabilities that will be critical for the workforce of the future are directly related to the general skills profile of the Glendon students:

- Cultural competency Demonstrating knowledge of, respect for, interest in and comfort with individuals from different cultures, along with a commitment to increasing mutual understanding, respectful engagement, and a shared sense of community
- Collaboration Working together with and supporting others in order to complete tasks and realize shared goals
- Critical thinking Actively and skillfully conceptualizing, applying, analyzing, synthesizing, and/or evaluating information gathered from observation, experience, reflection, reasoning, or communication, as a guide to belief and action
- Problem solving Recognizing or even anticipating what needs to be done, and taking action to find a solution to a problem or challenge
- Leadership & social intelligence Guiding, influencing, directing or mobilizing others towards learning new knowledge or a skill, accomplishing a goal, improving performance, or completing a task
- Communication Ability to clearly and effectively convey information and ideas in order to facilitate shared understanding—whether verbally, non-verbally, visually or in writing using diverse print or digital media formats
Take a look at the study areas and program descriptions below to see where you could find your match.

1. HUMAN & SOCIAL SCIENCES

Human and social sciences programs help you better understand and navigate cultures, populations, genders, diversity and society— and in turn help open minds to new realities. You’ll acquire analytical, cognitive synthesis and cross-cultural competency skills that can be applied across a wide variety of sectors and industries, both private, public and not-for-profit.

Canadian Studies (BA & iBA)

www.glendon.yorku.ca/canadianstudies

Considering government or public sector work? Gain a competitive edge with a bilingual degree and an understanding of the country in its various dimensions: political and legal systems, languages and cultures, history, and Canada’s position in the global arena.

Set yourself apart by studying with leading authorities on Canadian topics, including our national culture, environmental history, labour issues in Quebec, and endangered Indigenous languages.

Communications (BA & iBA)

www.glendon.yorku.ca/communications

How is communication used as a tool for organizing communities, societies, and economies? As a student in the only bilingual communications program in Canada, you’ll look for answers while taking classes, researching and working in both of Canada’s official languages. Explore the hidden lives of data, the human right to privacy, the mechanics of online marketing and advertising, and your role as a digital citizen while developing your communication expertise.
Gender and Women's Studies (BA & iBA)
www.glendon.yorku.ca/womenstudies
Gender and Women's Studies examines issues in people's lives from multiple perspectives, with particular attention to how race, ethnicity, class, and sexual orientation have defined their experiences. Our campus is an incredibly inclusive environment with a community that's passionate about social justice. Whether you're interested in feminist movements, activism, advocacy, health care, the LGBTQ+ community, or other areas, you'll apply your learning through involvement in campus organizations, including the Women and Trans Centre at Glendon, the Centre for Human Rights at our Keele campus, and more.

History (BA & iBA)
www.glendon.yorku.ca/history
Our History program gives you the insights to connect past events to the present in meaningful ways, developing critical thinking skills and research skills. These abilities can be key when searching for work in positions such as teacher, lawyer, documentary filmmaker, journalist, diplomat, and more. Our professors are leaders in their fields; from specialists in religious history to immigration, war, military, and security.

Sexuality Studies (BA & iBA)
www.glendon.yorku.ca/sexualitystudies
Join a community of scholars and activists who are producing new ways of thinking about sex, gender, and sexuality to influence change in industries such as health, social services, law, politics, counselling, activism, and more. Our campus is an incredibly inclusive and safe environment. Apply your learning through involvement in our Women and Trans Centre, the Centre for Human Rights at our Keele campus, and GLQHT, a student-run organization that promotes community support through social events and awareness campaigns on campus.

Sociology (BA & iBA)
www.glendon.yorku.ca/sociology
Sociology is the study of our social world — of our lives as individuals, how people connect, how societies are organized, and how they change over time.

With our bilingual focus and our internships, exchanges, and internationally oriented degrees, our graduates have the ability to apply sociological perspectives to topics such as gender, deviant behaviour, and family, and to apply them to careers in public policy, law, communications, teaching, activism, and more.

Undecided Major (BA & iBA)
www.glendon.yorku.ca/undecidedmajor
If you’re not sure what you’d like to major in and need a little bit more time to explore your options, you can apply to “Undecided Major” for your first year and choose your specialization going into second year, when you feel more prepared.

2. EDUCATION

There is a high demand for multilingual teachers globally, whether you want to teach French, English or Spanish as a second language, in Canada or abroad.

Education-French As A Second Language Concentration (BEd)
www.glendon.yorku.ca/bed and www.yorku.ca/RED and www.edub.yorku.ca
York University’s Faculty of Education offers a Glendon program uniquely designed for future immersion, extended, and core French teachers. Not only will you build your French proficiency while learning to be a teacher; you’ll learn leading-edge methods specific to teaching French, in French. Bilingualism is in our DNA. You’ll connect with Francophone students from all over the world, participate in campus activities in both languages, and immerse yourself in an environment that includes French beyond the classroom. The practicum placements also include French settings for more exposure to the language.

Languages, Cultures and Translation

Speak the world, understand the world, interpret the world. Our programs offer rich opportunities to delve into the study of not only multiple languages, but also the cultures that make each of them alive, unique and stand out.

Drama Studies (BA & iBA)
www.glendon.yorku.ca/dramastudies
Theatre buffs, unite! Get to know drama as a study of literature and performance with courses that integrate language, literature, critical theory, performance media, and genres (such as film, television, and more). You’ll learn from award-winning experts in their fields, explore varied works of dramatic literature and performance, and get hands-on experience with productions in English, French, and Spanish with our student-led production company. Our black box theatre boasts professional-level lighting, sound, and multimedia technologies.

English Studies (BA & iBA)
www.glendon.yorku.ca/englishstudies
Learn about literature from a multitude of countries and time periods, focus on the inner workings of the English language in linguistics courses, or concentrate on dramatic texts from international English-speaking countries - the choice is yours! If you’re interested in teaching English, the Discipline of Teaching English as an International Language (D-TEL) Certificate is a great option; students travel to Cuba for three weeks to teach English. Is writing your passion? Pair your degree with our Certificate in Technical and Professional Communications. The communications industry is what you’re looking for? Students in the four-year course Professional Communications are placed in an internship during their second semester.

French Studies (BA & iBA)
www.glendon.yorku.ca/frenchstudies
Study some of the greatest literary works of the French-speaking world; trace the development of the language, the nuances of pronunciation, and the interesting variety of accents; improve your level of spoken and written French; enhance your understanding of the cultures attached to the French language, and more.

As French-language specialists, highly accomplished professionals in francophone internationale are part of the Glendon faculty. Looking to go abroad? Get a full cultural experience through an exchange with French-speaking partner universities including La Sorbonne in Paris. You can also practice without leaving campus at the Salen francophone.

Linguistics and Language Studies (BA & iBA)
www.glendon.yorku.ca/linguistics
Linguistics and Language Studies examines the building blocks of languages, how they develop over time, how people learn languages, how regional accents differ, and more. Our professors are experts in the study of sound properties, word patterns, meaning, language evolution, and the relationship between language and social factors.

Hands-on opportunities include language teaching practicums in Cuban classrooms with our DTEL (Discipline of Teaching English as an International Language) Certificate or with the Ojibwa community of Toronto.

Spanish (Hispanic Studies) (BA & iBA)
www.glendon.yorku.ca/spanish
Set yourself apart for careers focused on Spanish language and culture including teaching, communications, interpretation, or translation. You’ll develop a thorough understanding of exploring Spanish literature, cinema, theatre, and politics in small classes with dynamic, supportive professors.

Interested in teaching? Consider our DTEL (Discipline of Teaching English as an International Language) Certificate to gain hands-on experience in Cuba. This program also qualifies you for our Accelerated BA in Spanish Translation.

Translation (BA & iBA)
www.glendon.yorku.ca/translation
Unique in Southern Ontario, our program addresses a significant shortage of English and French translators in Canada. Our graduates work for the United Nations, the Government of Canada, law firms, publishing houses, and more. They have also developed careers in editing, writing, and teaching.

As a Translation student, you’ll join the free membership to the Association of Translators and Interpreters of Ontario with access to all its services, job postings, workshops, and networking opportunities.

4. BUSINESS & ECONOMICS

World, please welcome a new breed of business leaders! Have a business, management and analytical mindset, and want to pair it with 21st century competencies acquired through the study of humanities? Our business programs include a certain number of courses to be taken outside of the program specialties.

Business Economics (BA & iBA)
www.glendon.yorku.ca/businesseconomics
Have a business and management mindset but also want to perfect your people skills? Our Business Economics program combines business administration and economics with a special emphasis on international business and humanities. Your degree will provide you with the fundamental principles of economic theory, and managerial and accounting skills for the business world.

Interested in internships? Ours provide practical work experience in capital investment agencies, corporations, banks, accounting firms, the insurance industry, and more. Several courses are accredited by the Certified Professional Accountants of Ontario (CPA).
Economics (BA & IBA)
www.glendon.yorku.ca/economics

Why are some countries rich and others poor, and why is rent so much higher in Toronto than in Sudbury? Our globally focused Economics degree gives you insights into these types of issues, preparing you for careers in law, politics, diplomacy, government, and more.

You’ll learn from professors with strong international backgrounds, real-world experience, and a wide variety of specializations, including microeconomics, immigration, international trade law, natural resources, and the environment.

International Studies And Business Administration (Dual IBA/BBA Degree)
www.glendon.yorku.ca/business-international

This dual degree consists of two years studying in our flagship International Studies program, followed by two years at France’s No. 1 business incubator, the emlyon business school. What’s more, it marries a business education with a liberal arts background compounded with Glendon’s trademark excellence in French-language training and international experience.

You’ll not only have access to the resources of Canada’s 3rd largest university and Glendon’s trademark small campus experience, but will tap into the expertise of emlyon’s prestigious business education.

You’ll start building your career in Toronto, and wrap up your degree with work experience in France.

Mathematics (BA & IBA)
www.glendon.yorku.ca/mathematics

Glendon’s Mathematics program will develop your knowledge in pure and applied mathematics, including linear and modern algebra, mathematical analysis, topology and geometry, probability and statistics, and the mathematics of investment and of actuarial science.

Combine your studies with courses or internships in Economics, Business Economics, Linguistics, Psychology, and more for a versatile education that opens doors to a range of professions, including careers as a business analyst, statistician, researcher, or teacher.

5. GOVERNMENT & LAW

Want to impact change? Glendon is recognized for its international focus, exchange opportunities and leadership training. Join our programs, study abroad and debate big ideas that will affect policy and shape our collective tomorrow.

International Studies (BA & IBA)
www.glendon.yorku.ca/internationalstudies

The first of its kind in Canada, established in 2007, our International Studies program arms you with a deeper understanding of how governments, law, politics, business, culture, science, and the environment relate on the international stage. You’ll be well-positioned to join the ranks of Glendon grads working in prominent positions at organizations such as the Canadian Foreign Service, Oxford, and the United Nations.

Glendon offers a degree without borders – whether with our unique IBA degree, with an international exchange or internship, or by co-coordinating our award-winning International Studies Student Symposium.

Philosophy (BA & IBA)
www.glendon.yorku.ca/philosophy

Philosophy helps sharpen your ability to analyze, to question accepted beliefs, and to express ideas clearly. The critical thinking skills acquired in studying Philosophy are highly transferable: students consistently outperform others on standardized exams for law, medical, business, and graduate schools.

Discussions in our small classes will help you develop a better understanding of different points of view and to become a better thinker, decoder, and writer. Philosophy majors are encouraged to participate actively, ask questions, and argue for or against the theories and ideas that have been presented; this prepares you exceptionally well for a career in law, medicine, teaching, diplomacy, and more.

Political Science (BA & IBA)
www.glendon.yorku.ca/politicalscience

Our program employs dynamic, innovative teaching methods; we discuss the major issues of our times, including democracy, human rights, peace and security, the environment, the fight against poverty, and more. Our bilingual or trilingual international degree options will position you well in a competitive global marketplace.

Our grads’ success is boundless: they get into some of the best graduate programs in political science around the world. They also succeed in the national and international political arena as journalists, UN policy analysts, lawyers, and more.

6. SCIENCES

The exclusive bilingual science programs at Glendon will prepare you to observe, understand and support the new realities that affect our planet, our humanity and our environments. A worldwide focus on public health and environmental issues calls for more bilingual graduates who can work in the science professions.

Biology (BSc & iBSc)
www.glendon.yorku.ca/biology

Interested in conservation biology, biotechnology, ecology, and more? Our small classes offer a personalized experience with advanced hands-on research opportunities rarely offered before you reach grad school. Glendonites can also take biology courses at the Keele campus, the longest-established scientific program at York, home to internationally-recognized teaching and research professors.

As the first and only bilingual Biology BSc in Southern Ontario to offer courses in English and French, our program is uniquely qualified to address a provincial need for bilingual health-related professionals.

Psychology (BA, IBA, BSc, iBSc)
www.glendon.yorku.ca/psychology

NEW! Glendon is proud to offer a Cognitive Neuropsychology stream within the Glendon Psychology program, which allows you to study the relationship between the brain and behaviour. This stream coordinates applied research opportunities between Glendon students and affiliated hospitals and health centres, for valuable hands-on experience for students.

Our professors are actively involved across a wide spectrum of specializations, providing you with the opportunity to explore topics including neuropsychology, crime and the justice system, perception, psychological injury and law, prejudice, and aging, with the top experts in those fields.

Considering medical school or graduate studies? Professors will get to know you through our small classes, which can result in more academic support and stronger reference letters. You’ll apply your learning in our perception lab and through local and international internships, practicums, research assistantships, and part-time jobs with healthcare providers including Sunnybrook Hospital and Toronto Rehabilitation Institute.

Glendon certificate programs are:

- CERTIFICATE OF PROFICIENCY IN SPANISH FOR BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL COMMUNICATION
- CROSS-DISCIPLINARY CERTIFICATE IN PUBLIC HISTORY
- DISCIPLINE OF TEACHING ENGLISH AS AN INTERNATIONAL LANGUAGE (D-TEIL)
- LAW AND SOCIAL THOUGHT
- RÉDACTION PROFESSIONNELLE (offered in French only)

SMALL CAMPUS. BIG HEART.

University is a big life stage! Helping and supporting each other is what makes Glendon so unique. We offer a personalized experience where YOU really matter—small classes, many support programs and student services dedicated to your success.

We can’t wait to meet you.
A POSITIVE AND SAFE SPACE

Glendon is home to an extremely supportive community. We want to ensure that you feel welcome and safe anywhere on campus. See below for some of the services we offer.

GLgbt
GLgbt is a student organisation that promotes a supportive environment for lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, questioning and queer folks or any individual with diverse sexual or gender identities on York University’s Glendon Campus. The group hosts community-building social events and awareness campaigns throughout the year.

Women & Trans Centre
The Glendon Women and Trans Centre is dedicated to providing a positive space where no person is judged based on their gender, race, religion, or sexual orientation. We work to promote the preservation of all human rights with a special emphasis on celebrating the many voices of the women and trans community at Glendon.

Accessibility Services
Academic accommodation and support to students with disabilities, including:
- Students with temporary or permanent disabilities
- Students enrolled in full-time or part-time studies at Glendon Campus
- Students registered in undergraduate or graduate studies

ACADEMIC SERVICES

Our team is here to help you connect the dots between all the elements that make up student and academic life, from enrolment in your very first course to convocation day. With us, you won’t get bounced around. We help you navigate degree requirements, program intricacies, registrar services and more.

We can answer questions related to your program, student records and academic status. We’ll also be there if you need support to stay on track with your degree or if you’re finding it challenging to transition from high school or an international destination to university life in Canada. You made it this far—we take your success seriously.

You can check in on your degree progress when you’d like and drop by our office to get the answers you need (with little to no lineups). www.glendon.yorku.ca/academic-services/

STUDENT AFFAIRS

Our office is at the heart of student life and specializes in facilitating growth within individual students and student groups. We support you with your transition to university, ensure that your first-year experience is a positive one and that your time at Glendon is enriching, satisfying and results in learning and personal development.

Leadership
GLLead aims to bring together Glendon students who are aspiring, emerging, or current student leaders, community leaders, self-starters, dreamers, and problem solvers. By participating in one or more aspects of the GLLead program, you are making a commitment to learning, self-development, care, and to making a change in yourself and/or in your community.

Development
Workshops are designed to help you take a bold step in your leadership and personal development by reflecting on your experiences, attitudes, and perceptions of leadership to articulate your mission, vision, and values.

Mentorship
The Lion’s Den is dedicated to providing students with the best opportunities to gain the fundamental skills that they need for the future. At the Lion’s Den, you’ll meet student peer mentors who can give you insight on what to expect and tips for success.

ORIENTATION ACTIVITIES

Orientation is a multi-day experience that aims to ensure you receive the need-to-know information about student life, services and resources on campus, and gets you even more excited to start your life as a Glendonite.

JumpStart
JumpStart is a unique pre-orientation 4-day program that takes place at the end of August and is designed to prepare you for what’s to come. You’ll learn tips to adjust to the academic demands of university life, develop techniques for more effective study, and adapt to your new environment.

Glendon Orientation (GO) Day
This is a mandatory day that usually takes place the first working day of September and features the need-to-know information about student life, services and resources on campus. You’ll meet your Peer Mentor who will be a guide through your first year and get the ins-and-outs of your program from your professors and other Glendon students. We’ll end the day at the Keele Campus for the official York University Welcome Ceremony.

Parents & supporters orientation
Since parents, guardians, and family are an important support for students throughout their university careers, we offer this session to connect with them and answer their questions. Topics discussed include campus security, orientation, food services, student life, financial aid and OSAP. This session coincides with residence move-in day to allow as many parents as possible to participate.

Orientation for all
In addition to Glendon Orientation Day, we host orientation days for LGBTQ & Allies, for International Students, for aboriginal students and more.

Social Orientation (or Frosh) Week
Frosh Week is your biggest opportunity to participate in social activities on campus, meet new people, visit the Keele Campus, and take part in student-run events, city-wide scavenger hunts, and more.

FEES AND FINANCIAL AID

Being in charge of your own finances is something new for many first-year students, so here is a quick guide to help you get a sense of what you’ll spend, and how you can fund your studies through awards and other financial aid, student loans, and working on or off campus. Let’s start with making a budget.

WHAT IS THE DEADLINE TO APPLY?
As early as January 31, 2020 (deadlines vary)

NOTE: You can apply even if you have not yet received an offer of admission.

For more details and to apply online, visit: www.glendon.yorku.ca/scholarships
Option 2: Other financial aid
Look into the various programs available and find additional money and student loans to help you pay for school, including:
- Government financial aid, such as the Ontario Student Assistance Program (OSAP)
- Personal student line of credit, through a bank/private financial institution
- External scholarships, such as through Universities Canada

Option 3: Employment
There are several opportunities at both Glendon and Keele Campuses to earn extra money and gain valuable workplace or research experience. You’ll find a broad range of jobs, including lifeguarding at the pool, working in the library, assisting professors with research, and a number of positions in the residence buildings. Positions for the fall/winter term are posted in August.

York’s Career Centre hosts an online job posting platform that provides over 10,000 opportunities to York students and new graduates every year! Check them out at www.careers.yorku.ca

Student Financial Services are here to help you access financial aid and pay your fees. We will support you with any money question you may have. www.glendon.yorku.ca/student-financial-services

LIVING ON CAMPUS
If you are new to the city and want to live in a safe, supportive and welcoming environment, consider applying to live in residence at Glendon.

Guaranteed Residence is GUARANTEED TO FIRST-YEAR STUDENTS who apply before June. And of course, you’re welcome to stay throughout your studies.

Private 90% of Glendon residence rooms are SINGLES. Most universities do not offer that many single rooms to first-year students.

Safe
- 24-hour campus security on-site
- A senior student, or “DON,” lives in each house to provide support and resources
- You’re only a short walk away from your Glendon Campus courses, library or gym, or from the FREE shuttle that can take you to Keele Campus

Smart amenities
- Newly renovated, non-gendered bathrooms
- High speed wireless internet
- Adjustable beds to accommodate your storage needs
- Bare walls waiting for you to personalize them and show your colours

Meal plan
There are four different meal plan options you can choose from and use across both Glendon and Keele Campuses.

Friends
Our Dons plan activities throughout the year for students in residence, which allows you to make new friends and be part of an amazing community.

STUDENT CLUBS: A DIFFERENT WAY TO ‘GO CLUBBING’
Glendon is home to more than 30 student clubs and associations, and more than 300 clubs can be found at the Keele Campus. We’re pretty sure you’ll be able to find one that matches your interests!

Some of Glendon’s longest-standing student clubs include:
- Lionheart Productions
- Foreign Affairs Council of Glendon
- Glendon Digital Media Club
- Glendon African Network
- Glendon Dance Team
- Glendon Model United Nations
- Glendon Muslim Students Association
- La Mode à Glendon

REZO P., Ukraine
International Studies and Business Administration dual degree, graduating class of 2023

“Because of my grades, I automatically received the York University Entrance Scholarship ($3,500) and the York University Student Life Award ($500). In addition, I also applied to the Lester B. Pearson Entrance Scholarship ($1,000) and the Ethel Harris Entrance Scholarship ($10,000) at Glendon, which I was awarded.

I found several scholarships and awards that I was eligible for by searching on the York University and Glendon campus websites. I filled out application forms, wrote essays, asked for volunteer references, prepared my resume and developed a cover letter.

Thanks to this funding, I was able to cover costs that my parents could not support. Students looking for financial support should think about building a strong student profile - volunteering and pushing themselves to obtain better grades are great ways to achieve this. Researching scholarships, awards and bursaries online and working hard are key to unlocking some of this funding. University is an expensive endeavour and every little bit helps!”

STAY ON TRACK TOP 5 TIPS TO FOLLOW

1. KEEP YOUR GRADES UP
For high-school applicants, scholarships are calculated based on your final Grade 12 average, so work hard right until the end of the year to max out your scholarship offer.

2. MAKE A BUDGET
How do you know if you have enough funding? Make sure you sort out your finances before you start university.

3. APPLY FOR SCHOLARSHIPS
Hundreds of scholarships are available. Don’t forget about the ones that need an application!

4. APPLY FOR OSAP
Ideally by June 30th, to be considered for loans and grants (free money that you don’t have to pay back). Not from Ontario? Look into your government’s financial aid.

5. START APPLYING FOR MORE AID
Before you start school in September, you’ll be able to apply for more awards that are given out each year and start looking for a part-time job if you need one.

APPLYING TO GLENDON

There are four steps that all applicants must follow. However, Step 2 and Step 3 differ greatly based on your situation, so make sure to read all the details that pertain to YOU! Detailed admissions information is available at www.glendon.yorku.ca/admissions.

RESPECT THE DEADLINES
Make sure you apply before the deadlines. Otherwise, you may not be admitted.

CHECK THE REQUIREMENTS
We’ll let you know what kind of courses you need to have completed, what tests you will need to take upon being admitted, and any other requirement based on the program you want to take.

SUBMIT
ONTARIO HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS
OUAC is the provincial online portal for all Ontario university applications, where you can enter your information and simply click to submit.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS FROM OUTSIDE ONTARIO (DOMESTIC)
Domestic high school students from outside Ontario must send their application packages to the York University Admissions Office and have their institutions send the transcripts directly to the university.

UNIVERSITY & COLLEGE TRANSFER STUDENTS AND MATURE STUDENTS (DOMESTIC)
Domestic university & college transfer students and mature students must send their application packages to the York University Admissions Office and have their institutions send the transcripts directly to the university.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS
International students must send their application packages to the York University Admissions Office and have their institutions send the transcripts directly to the university.

STAY ON TOP OF YOUR APPLICATION
You’ll be able to keep track online and know whether anything is missing from your application. Make sure to check email and mail messages from York University.

NOTE: *Applications received by the early deadline will receive full consideration to the chosen program(s) and associated scholarships. Delayed or incomplete submission of an application may result in a full program, study permit delays and/or fewer course enrolment options. Check www.glendon.yorku.ca/admissions for updates.

STEP 2 FULFILL THE REQUIREMENTS

Be sure to review the information carefully and meet the requirements for both general admission to Glendon and program-specific admission. For details, visit www.glendon.yorku.ca/admissions.

If you have a diagnosed physical, learning, or mental health disability, we strongly encourage you to identify yourself during the admissions process. Identifying yourself will in no way be a disadvantage to you, we simply wish to share the support services that are available to you. www.glendon.yorku.ca/disabilities

Glendon is a leader in recognizing prior studies for transfer credit, which is available for prior college and university study, AP, IB, and other educational systems. We’ll promptly assess you for transfer credits upon admission. www.glendon.yorku.ca/transfer

*These are minimum requirements only. Admission is not guaranteed, and all requirements are subject to change.

For additional requirements & recommendations, please visit our website at www.glendon.yorku.ca/admissions
The advantage of using OUAC to apply (as opposed to applying directly to the university) is that your transcripts are already in the system and you don’t need to ask your school to send them. All you have to do is fill an online form and pay the application fee.

For full details, visit www.glendon.yorku.ca/admissions

What to send the Office of Admissions

1. Transcripts
   Please have your school mail your transcript by April 30 and then have your official final results mailed directly to us when they become available.

2. Supplementary information (if required)

3. Language test results (if required)

4. Letters/resumé
   If you took time away from studies (e.g. work, travel, family responsibilities), you must explain this, and outline your activities since completing your studies (e.g. work, travel, family responsibilities).

5. Postsecondary course descriptions
   To assess your eligibility for transfer credit, we need detailed course descriptions for any academic studies completed outside of Canada or the United States at an accredited college or university to assess your eligibility for transfer credit.

www.glendon.yorku.ca/transfercredit

The University of Ontario Universities’ Application Centre (OUAC) at www.ouac.on.ca is your provincial university admission service. Apply through the Ontario Universities’ Application Centre (OUAC) at www.ouac.on.ca for winter, spring and fall entry.

All you have to do is fill an online form and pay the application fee.

For details, visit www.ouac.on.ca

What to send the Office of Admissions

1. Official transcripts
   Submit official transcripts for all college or university courses you’ve completed. If you’re currently completing courses, send a transcript showing your course enrolment and grades-to-date as soon as you apply, and then again at the end of the semester.

2. Submit mid-term results or predicted grades and proof of enrolment in Senior year as soon as they become available.

3. Language test results (if required)

4. Letters/resumé
   If you’ve been out of school for more than four months, include a letter or resumé outlining your activities since completing your studies (e.g. work, travel, family responsibilities).

5. Postsecondary course descriptions
   To assess your eligibility for transfer credit, we need detailed course descriptions for any academic studies completed outside of Canada or the United States at an accredited community college or university. These descriptions must be prepared by your former institution or be on the institution’s website.
