Explore the scientific study of the mind and behaviour. Develop a solid foundation in the knowledge and skills essential to succeed in psychology and its related professions. Enjoy small classes that promote direct interaction with professors, who are experts in fields such as forensics, rehabilitation, neuropsychology, memory, aging and vision sciences. You’ll also have the opportunity to engage in course-related research projects, thanks to our partnerships with health-care facilities such as Sunnybrook Health Science Centre. Choose from a BA or BSc – both will equip you with a highly marketable skill set that includes research methods, statistical proficiency, communication skills and critical thinking.

“At Glendon, professors are always available for their students, especially for office hours and class discussions. I have found opportunities to do research and learn more about specialized fields such as neuropsychology which have enhanced my experience. Here, I never feel like a number; I feel like a member of a strong community.”
— Natalia L.-W., BA’18
